“Schwarz delivered a peak 104 rated win in the $1M William Reid Stakes. The sectionals backed up what was significantly faster than anything else on the day. Whatever he does in the future this performance had undeniable substance.”

Daniel O’Sullivan
(The Rating Bureau) 24/3/25

“I haven’t trained a better looking, nor many faster colt’s than Schwarz. The highest-rated yearling I have seen in years...type, sire-line, pedigree, speed & Gr1 W.F.A success. He’s a slam dunk.”

Good Judges

“An absolute 10/10! Everything you want to see in a young commercial stallion prospect!”

Will Johnson (Will Johnson Bloodstock)

“We had the pleasure of spelling Schwarz at Segenhoe after he won the Missile Stakes. I couldn’t take my eyes off him. He’s magnificent!”

Peter O’Brien (Segenhoe Stud)

“Outstanding! I have six mares booked for clients and may have to double down after seeing him again!”

Damon Gabbedy (Belmont Bloodstock)

“A stunning horse and no surprise he made a serious figure as a yearling. An easy horse to recommend.”

Jim Clarke (Clarke Bloodstock)

“Thrilled to be partners in racing Schwarz and just as excited to be shareholders in his stud career. He’s such a beautiful horse. Group One winner, big pedigree and we’re looking forward to supporting him.”

Mitch Cunningham (Ridgmont)

“He’s a belter. Beautiful size and shape. His girth & strength through his shoulder is something else!”

James Mitchell (Mitchell Bloodstock)

Mitochondrial DNA

Think of mtDNA as your “built-in battery pack” you get only from your dam - genes that power every muscle cell. Beyond just having good batteries, there are different battery “models” (haplotypes), each wired a bit differently.

Some of those models “click” better with certain stallion bloodlines because the mitochondrial proteins must work hand-in-hand with nuclear-encoded parts of the energy factory. When the two sets of genes are well-matched, you get smoother energy production, better stamina, and quicker recovery. But if they’re mismatched, the engine can run less efficiently - like using the wrong charger for a phone battery.

Schwarz’s sire Zoustar shows a clear “haplotype nick” when mated to mares carrying the same mitochondrial lineage as his dam - 26% of his stakes-winning foals come from that exact maternal haplotype match. In other words, reinforcing his own mtDNA background with a like-for-like mare delivers the highest strike-rate of winners, underlining how a true “click” at the mitochondrial level can boost on-track performance.

Zoustar’s performers – Sunlight, Zoustyle, Indian Pacific, Schwarz, North Star Lass, Zoushine, C’Est Magique, Clean Energy etc – all trace back to mares carrying the exact same mitochondrial dam line as Zoustar himself. In pedigree lingo, Schwarz is a true “pure”: his dam’s mtDNA haplotype is a one-for-one match to Zoustar’s maternal line, maximising that mitochondrial “click” and driving exceptional on-track success.

In summary, Mares by the likes of CHARGE FORWARD, FASTNET ROCK, I AM INVINCIBLE, MORE THAN READY, SEBRING, STAR WITNESS, MAGNUS & TESTA ROSSA are of particular interest.
